Help | What is your current status in Canada?

Status in Canada and Country of Citizenship are mandatory fields. Permanent Residents must also enter their Date of Entry into Canada.

Note: A permanent resident is someone who has been issued a permanent resident visa by the Canadian government and has landed in Canada, but is not a Canadian citizen. Permanent residents are citizens of other countries. A person in Canada temporarily, such as a student, foreign worker or visitor, is not a permanent resident.

Help | Do you identify as a First Nation (Status or Non-status), Inuit or Métis person?

The Indigenous and Treaty rights of First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples are recognized and affirmed in the Constitution Acts of 1867 to 1982 (section 35).

If you identify as a person with First Nation (Status or Non-status), Inuit or Métis ancestry, you may self-identify by selecting 1 of the following: First Nation, Inuit or Métis. If you do not identify with 1 of these groups or do not wish to declare your status, leave the field blank.

You are not required to provide this information; however, if you do, we will forward it to your chosen universities so they can inform you of specific services available to First Nations, Inuit and Métis students.

Applicant Diversity Census

The Ontario universities are committed to the principles of equity, diversity and inclusion. To that end, they would like to learn more about their applicants to ensure that they are recruiting and selecting classes representative of the Canadian population and addressing barriers to a university education.

To assist them in fulfilling these goals, the Ontario universities would like to ask you the following 4 questions.

Note: The universities you apply to may use your answers to:

- identify any unconscious bias or systemic racism in the admission process and to monitor any programs implemented to address any bias.
- inform you of specific programs, services or supports available to equity-seeking groups, in an effort to improve the availability of a university education for equity-seeking communities.
- support the admission process. Examples include, but are not limited to, making offers of admission and awarding scholarships.

You may select the "Prefer not to answer" response option available for each question if you choose not to provide your diversity-based personal information. No program, service or benefit will be withheld should you choose not to provide your diversity-based personal information.

With which ethnic group(s) do you identify? Select all that apply. (required)

There is no scientific/biological basis for the idea of 'race'. However, in Canada, people are often identified by their colour and physical features, which can lead to racial bias, stereotyping, and discrimination. Ethnic groups have a common identity, heritage, ancestry or historical past, often with identifiable cultural, linguistic and/or religious characteristics.

The following categories reflect ethno-racial groupings that can help us understand the unique experiences of racial bias and inequity across diverse peoples. These categories are complex, and individuals may describe themselves differently from the categories listed.

Reporting Previous Attendance at a University or College

You must provide information about all universities and colleges you currently attend, previously attended or withdrew from, regardless of whether you will complete the program, since universities normally consider all educational experiences to be part of the academic background. Universities need to know your complete academic background to process your application.

- Postsecondary transcript instructions for Group A applicants
- Postsecondary transcript instructions for Group B applicants
  - If you are a Group B applicant, you are responsible for forwarding your official transcripts to your selected universities. Read the transcript requirements carefully, as some types of transcripts must be ordered within your application, while others you will need to order directly from your institution.
