Help | What is your current status in Canada?

Status in Canada and Country of Citizenship are mandatory fields. Permanent Residents must also enter their Date of Entry into Canada.

Note: A permanent resident is someone who has been issued a permanent resident visa by the Canadian government and has landed in Canada, but is not a Canadian citizen. Permanent residents are citizens of other countries. A person in Canada temporarily, such as a student, foreign worker or visitor, is not a permanent resident.

Applicant Diversity
Census

Applicant Diversity Census

The Ontario universities are committed to the principles of equity, diversity and inclusion. To that end, they would like to learn more about their applicants to ensure that they are recruiting and selecting classes representative of the Canadian population and addressing barriers to a university education.

To assist them in fulfilling these goals, the Ontario universities would like to ask you the following 4 questions.

Note: The universities you apply to may use your answers to:

- identify any unconscious bias or systemic racism in the admission process and to monitor any programs implemented to address any bias.
- inform you of specific programs, services or supports available to equity-seeking groups, in an effort to improve the availability of a university education for equity-seeking communities.
- support the admission process. Examples include, but are not limited to, making offers of admission and awarding scholarships.

You may select the "Prefer not to answer" response option available for each question if you choose not to provide your diversity-based personal information. No program, service or benefit will be withheld should you choose not to provide your diversity-based personal information.

With which ethnic group(s) do you identify? Select all that apply. (required)

There is no scientific/biological basis for the idea of 'race'. However, in Canada, people are often identified by their colour and physical features, which can lead to racial bias, stereotyping, and discrimination. Ethnic groups have a common identity, heritage, ancestry or historical past, often with identifiable cultural, linguistic and/or religious characteristics.

The following categories reflect ethno-racial groupings that can help us understand the unique experiences of racial bias and inequity across diverse peoples. These categories are complex, and individuals may describe themselves differently from the categories listed.

- ☐ Arab
- ☐ Black (e.g., African, African-Canadian/American, Afro-Caribbean, Afro-Latinx, etc.)
- ☐ Caribbean (e.g., Antiguan, Bahamian, Barbadian, Bermudan, Carib, Cuban, Dominican, Grenadian, Guadeloupean, Haitian, Jamaican, Kittitian/Nevisian, Martinican, Montserratian, Puerto Rican, St. Lucian, Trinidadian/Tobagonian, Vincentian/Grenadian, West Indian, etc.)

- ☐ North African (e.g., Egyptian, Libyan)

Help | Have you contracted the services of an academic agent?

Education agents are commercial organizations that provide support to students in their higher education journey, helping them choose universities and programs, submit applications, apply for study visas, and other services, and that also help education institutions meet enrollment objectives by finding and recruiting suitable students. Agents can range from small family-owned companies with a single office, to large public companies with offices in dozens of cities. Agents earn revenue by charging service fees to students, or recruitment fees to education institutions, or in some cases both.
